

FRANK NEILL
DIRECTOR OF ADVERTISING SALES

Frank Neill is the Director of Advertising Sales at BlogTalkRadio (www.BlogTalkRadio.com) and brings more than 15 years of broadcast media experience.

As Director of Advertising Sales, Neill leads the BlogTalkRadio advertising sales team. He is responsible for the company's overall growth amongst advertisers, agencies and corporate sponsorship opportunities.

Throughout his career, Neill has worked with Fortune 500 companies in many different verticals and assisted them with their marketing and advertising challenges. Highlights include Harley Davidson, Coca Cola, Cadillac, Samuel Adams, Ford, Dunkin Donuts, AIG Insurance and ABC Television.

Prior to joining BlogTalkRadio, Neill served as Account Manager at WJJZ-FM (Greater Media Philadelphia) from October 2006 to November 2007. Neill secured marketing partnerships at the radio broadcasting company and worked alongside decision makers at agencies to create fully integrated programs designed to achieve prospect's goals.

Formerly the General Sales Manager for WIOQ FM (Clear Channel Communications), Neill successfully developed marketing campaigns for local and national clients and secured high profile marketing partnerships from December 2005 to November 2006.

In addition, Neill served as Local Sales Manager at Beasley Broadcasting Philadelphia from April 2002 to April 2004 and held the position of Account Manager at WMMR-FM (Greater Media Philadelphia) where he was consistently the leader in new business development and securing direct accounts.

Neill joined Clear Channel Radio as Promotions Director in 1996 and began his career at WIOQ Philadelphia in 1992.

Frank Neill graduated from Rowan University with Bachelor of Science in Marketing.
